

To say that the new "Fax Rule" is irrational and a waste of time is an understatement! I would think our legislators have more pressing issues to deal with than to devise rules and regulations that tie our hands behind our backs, and make our jobs more difficult and complicated. It makes more sense to use your power, time and money to punish the few that take advantage of this valuable method of communication and protect legitimate businesses that provide worthwhile and timely information to its members and business contacts. Our country long known for its productivity has just taken a giant leap backward.

Stop taking the rights away from all - just to appease the few. This ruling does not make sense
